

To whom it might concern

We have used the software SciConf in several scientific conferences (Europacat VII, Nordic symposium on catalysis, Camure-8, cafc-10) that we have arranged, for abstract handling purposes (electronic receiving and evaluation of abstracts), participant registration and hotel reservations. The number of participants in these conferences were in the range 200-1500 registered participants. The software performed well in all situations during the registration of participants, receiving of abstracts and in abstract handling. The support team also did changes in the software according to our needs and responded quickly if questions or problems occurred.

I can recommend the software for any conference organizer.
